

RAHAB

The Rahab Project offers support & befriending for anyone who is involved in sex working.

If you would like to know more about what we do, (or know someone who might be interested in support) please call or text

The Rahab Project is a small voluntary organisation based at Alana House on South Street (central Reading). We run weekly Night Outreach Teams in West Reading, as well as offering daytime support (including outreach support). We believe everyone's created equal & deserves respect. We're not about judging people; we hope to offer opportunities to empower & let people know they are valued & listened to.

SUPPORT

Support: We offer 1-2-1 support. This can take place at Alana House or at a cafe, depending on what you're comfy with. You can decide on the level of support you think you need.

BEFRIENDING & ADVOCACY

Do you access services? Do you sometimes feel misunderstood? Through befriending & advocacy we can accompany you to appointments, or meet key workers to help make sure your needs are understood as much as possible. Our staff & volunteers also signpost to other agencies which may be helpful to you (i.e. counselling, drug & alcohol support, housing).
